Frequently Asked Questions

Q1. What is “My Performance”?

“My Performance” is our new in house performance management tool for managing entire performance management cycle of employees.

Q2. What is the path to access “My Performance” application?

MyHCL >> HR Studio >> Perform >> My Performance

Q3. Who are the key role holders in the goal setting process and what is their role?

Appraiser – Will be the RM/PRM of the employee depending on the LOB. Once the Goal form gets initiated for the employee, employee and appraiser will be able to view the default role based goals. Appraiser is required to put in relevant targets, customize the goals if needed (as per business context) and publish it to the employee. A 10-day window will be available to both employee and manager for discussing the goals set. Post 10 days from the date of first publish of goal sheet to employee, the goals will get auto finalized and will move to next stage

Appraisee – Self. The default role based goal sheet will be visible to the employee and appraiser from the time of initiation of goals form, Once the appraiser customizes the goal sheet, provides the targets and publishes to the employee. A 10-day window will be available to both employee and manager for discussing the goals set. Post 10 days from the date of first publish of goal sheet to employee, the goals will get auto finalized and will move to next stage

Q4. When will my form move to continuous assessment stage?

After 10 calendar days from the first date of publish of goals by the appraiser, your form will move to continuous assessment stage.

Q5. Can I edit my own goals?

No, edit rights reside with the appraiser. Please reach out to your appraiser for any change in your goal. This should be done within the 10-day window post publish of goals to the employee as post that the goals will get auto finalized and will move to the continuous assessment stage

Q6. Can the goals be updated at Continuous stage?

Once the form moves to continuous stage, goals will freeze and no edits can be made, even by appraiser. In case of any further concern, please reach out to your LOB HR

Q7. I have 20 forms in my login for updating goals. Is there any option to update it in bulk?

Yes, on goal setting screen you can see a Bulk action button on the top right corner. Using that option, you can replicate goals of one employee to other. This will help in updating the KRA's and targets in one go. In case further customization is required; you can edit the goals at individual employee form.

Q8. What should be the total weightage of goals in the form?

Total weightage of the goals should be 100%, system will not allow submission of form unless this is done

Q9. Can I add a new goal?

Yes, but the “Add Goal” option will appear only when the total weightage is less than 100%, so you may need to reduce the weightage of a goal or delete it in order to add a new one if the add goal option is not appearing on screen
